The Bucaro Family

Bucaro Funeral Home & Cremation Center is the newest full service funeral home and crematory in DuPage county. Proudly family owned and operated, owner Frank Bucaro has been serving the west suburbs as a licensed Funeral Director and Embalmer since 1998. Frank is a life long resident of Bloomingdale where together, with his wife Lauren, are raising their three children- Frankie, Sammy, and Mackenzie.

“Helping a family in honoring the life and legacy of a loved one that come’s into our care is our greatest reward” says Frank. In developing this new facility, my family and I set a goal to give the community, and the families we serve, a comforting and relaxing place where the memorialization of our loved ones begin.

Visitations, Memorials, & Celebrations

Dr. Alan Wolfelt, a world renowned expert on grief has said, “Coming together to collectively grieve helps us move through grief...when we avoid or distort this mourning process, we are more likely to experience complicated or distorted grief.”

It's true that everyone grieves and memorializes differently, and at Bucaro Funeral Home & Cremation Center, we believe that no two funerals should be alike. No matter what religion, nationality, or background traditions your family shares, our hope is to add your own personalization and experience's to help create a truly unique individual service to remember the life that is lost. Whether you choose a church, chapel at our funeral home, or another location for a service, our staff's absolute commitment is to help walk you through every step of that process.

Burial Options

Burial traditions across many cultures have one thing in common—that a permanent resting place is essential for honoring and remembering our loved ones. When considering burial for yourself or a family member, options can include a traditional ground burial, entombment in a mausoleum, natural burial, burial at sea, or other alternatives that are befitting for both you and your family. The staff at Bucaro Funeral Home & Cremation Center can help offer options at local public, private, or national cemeteries. We also have vast experience in arranging burials around the country and across the world.

Cremation Options

As with burial, you can have any type of service you'd like around a cremation. Many people incorrectly believe that choosing cremation means that you can't have a traditional funeral. In fact, cremations commonly take place after a traditional funeral. Alternatively, you can choose to have a direct cremation (with no service beforehand) followed by a memorial or celebration of life service at a later date. Bucaro Funeral Home & Cremation Center is proud to have our very own crematory on site so that loved ones in our care never have to leave our facility. Families even have the option to witness and take part in the beginning of the cremation process.

Veteran Services

Nothing is more moving than witnessing the rendering of military funeral honors for our nation's finest. It's just one way to show our deep gratitude to those who, in times of war and peace, have faithfully defended our country. This ceremonial display of respect is the final demonstration that a grateful nation can provide.

Bucaro Funeral Home & Cremation Center is firmly committed to recognize the sacrifice and contributions of our nation's veterans. We pride ourselves in helping our families obtain any veteran and all veterans benefits they may be eligible for, including a free grave marker. Also, our staff will arrange for a military honor guard detail to be present for the interment of an eligible veteran that will consist of at least two members of the United States armed forces. The honor detail performs a ceremony that includes the playing of taps and the folding and presentation of the American flag to the honored veteran's next of kin.

Pre-Planning

More and more people today are choosing to preplan and or prepay their own or a loved one's funeral as an alternative to having others make the decisions for them. Three major benefits of planning a funeral in advance are:

1. The peace of mind that comes with knowing your wishes have been made known and the details taken care of, and if you wish, to prepay a funeral plan to guarantee against any future costs increases.
2. The comfort of knowing your family will not have to make funeral arrangement decisions during the difficult time of their initial grief or the financial burdens that may come at that time.
3. Assurance that informed, thoughtful decisions have been made about the choices of service and costs.
